Environmental, Social, Governance, and Nutrition (ESGN)

Customization of Benchmarking Tool for India's Food and Agriculture Sector

11 December 2024: New Delhi

13 December 2024: Mumbai

ESG (Environmental, Social and Governance) is becoming an important framework for sustainable business practices worldwide, including India. Within this framework, an additional parameter on Nutrition and Food Safety (N&FS) including significant changes needed to achieve safe, healthy, and sustainable diets would be worth considering.

Introducing a phased ESGN intervention is designed specifically for India's Food and Agriculture sector, aimed at advancing sustainability.

Join our Consultative Workshops, as part of Phase 1, to co-create a customized ESGN benchmarking tool tailored for the unique needs of India's Food and Agriculture sector. This is your chance to shape how ESGN principles are adopted and integrated into your organization, driving regulatory compliance and sustainability.

Why Attend?

The Consultative Workshop is an initiative to advance India's Food and Agriculture sector on "Food System Transformation". Participants will help contribute to the customization process of an ESGN benchmarking tool specifically designed for India's needs. This is your organization's valuable opportunity to influence how Environmental, Social, Governance, and Nutrition (ESGN) principles are adopted, promoting sustainability, regulatory compliance, and stronger financial outcomes in the Sector.
